

MEDICO-LEGAL AND SOLICITORS

Psicon offers comprehensive medico-legal assessment and report writing services comprising a range of litigation areas. Our clinicians have extensive experience and expertise as expert witnesses and are registered with expert witness directories, the Association of Personal Injury Lawyers and the British Psychological Society's Directory of Expert Witnesses.

Our aim is to provide expert advice to claimants and/or defendant's representatives to facilitate progression of claims.

We currently provide services to a broad network of legal professionals and associated agencies in the following areas:

- Personal injury for young people/adults including assessment with regard to psychological and neuropsychological injury.
- Offending behaviour including offender risk assessment and fitness to plead, in the context of criminal proceedings.
- Employment litigation including assessments in relation to Employment Tribunals and associated proceedings.
- Cognitive/intellectual assessments in the context of assessing mental capacity, including in the context of evidence giving in court proceedings.
- Family/child issues including assessment of parenting skills, custody and access issues.
- Child protection proceedings.

Our clinicians also provide treatment services for individuals who have suffered personal psychological injury as a consequence of either crime or accidents.

It is also part of our service to consult with members of the legal profession and provide advice within our areas of expertise when required.
